Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 15 September 2003.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

This action is in response to amendment filed September 12, 2003.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

11-20-03 The rejection of claim 5 on page 20 of the Board of Appeals decision rendered July 21, 2003 is hereby incorporated herein by reference thereto. Since base claim 1 already requires that the pores are filled with a precipitate of collagen, the Examiner agrees that collagen "substantially fills" the pores, as set forth in dependent claim 5 ^{and} is broader in scope and inconsistent with base claim 1.

Regarding claim 7, the language "collagen I-V and derivatives and mixtures thereof" is broader in scope than the claim it depends from (claim 1) that is limited to collagen. This is due to the fact that "collagen" does not encompass derivatives thereof. For example, a derivative of collagen is gelatin.

Claim Rejections Base Upon Prior Art

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3738

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The rejections set forth in the Board of Appeals decision rendered July 21, 2003 are incorporated herein by reference thereto.

Claims 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kaehler et al (article) in view of Hoffman, Jr. et al (US 5,197,977).

Claims 19 and 20 require a pharmacological agent. Hoffman ('977), as explained in the Board of Appeals decision on page 16, teaches incorporation of a drug or agent into the collagen; see the paragraph bridging columns 5 and 6 of Hoffman ('977). Therefore, it would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill to complex a pharmacological agent to the collagen material of Kaehler in order to prevent infection or to inhibit clotting as taught by Hoffman ('977).

Response to Arguments

Appellant's arguments filed September 15, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to the argument that Kaehler does not form a precipitate of collagen at selected conditions and pH, the Examiner asserts that the collagen of Kaehler is a precipitate to the extent that this language can be given patentable weight; see the paragraph bridging pages 9 and 10 of the Board of Appeals decision. Calling the collagen a precipitate does not distinguish is structurally from that disclose by Kaehler which is also coated onto the substrate from a liquid solution of collagen.

Appellant argues that the limitations that conditions of temperature and pH to form a precipitate are not met by Kaehler. However, the Examiner asserts that Kaehler discloses a pH that forms a precipitate on the substrate as explain in the previous paragraph. Furthermore, the temperature to have solid collagen coated on the substrate must inherently be present because that is the end result of the product disclosed by Kaehler.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Applicant should specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure, including the claims (MPEP 714.02 and 2163.06). Due to the procedure outlined in MPEP 2163.06 for interpreting claims, it is noted that other art may be applicable under 35 USC 102 or 35 USC 103(a) once the aforementioned issue(s) is/are addressed.

Applicant is respectfully requested to provide a list of all copending applications that set forth similar subject matter to the present claims. A copy of such copending claims is respectfully requested in response to this Office action.
